The St. Joe man is dedicated to the Future, yet rooted in the past. The dream-wafted memories here recorded will be pleasant interludes amid the relentless pressures of life.

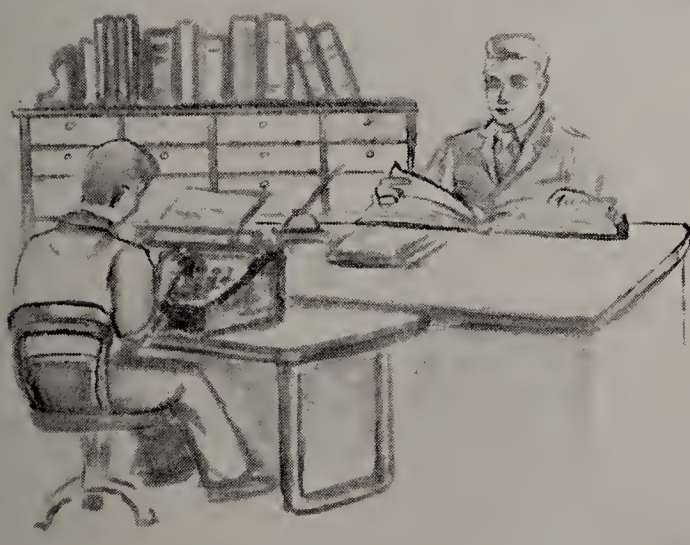

Dedication

All the world looks to the future. To thinking men the future, though gleaming brightly at times, appears dark and foreboding. Man seems unable to cope with the forces he has unleashed. As Catholic students we dedicate ourselves to the Future, trusting that God's Providence may use us and the skills we acquire at Saint Joseph's to build a Future more in accord with His design.

Administration

Bishop

The Most Rev. John G. Bennett, D.D.

Bishop of Lafayette in Indiana

The keen interest in Saint Joseph's manifested by His Excellency, Bishop Bennett, has been a source of encouragement to all of us. We pray that God grant him many years to guide us.

President

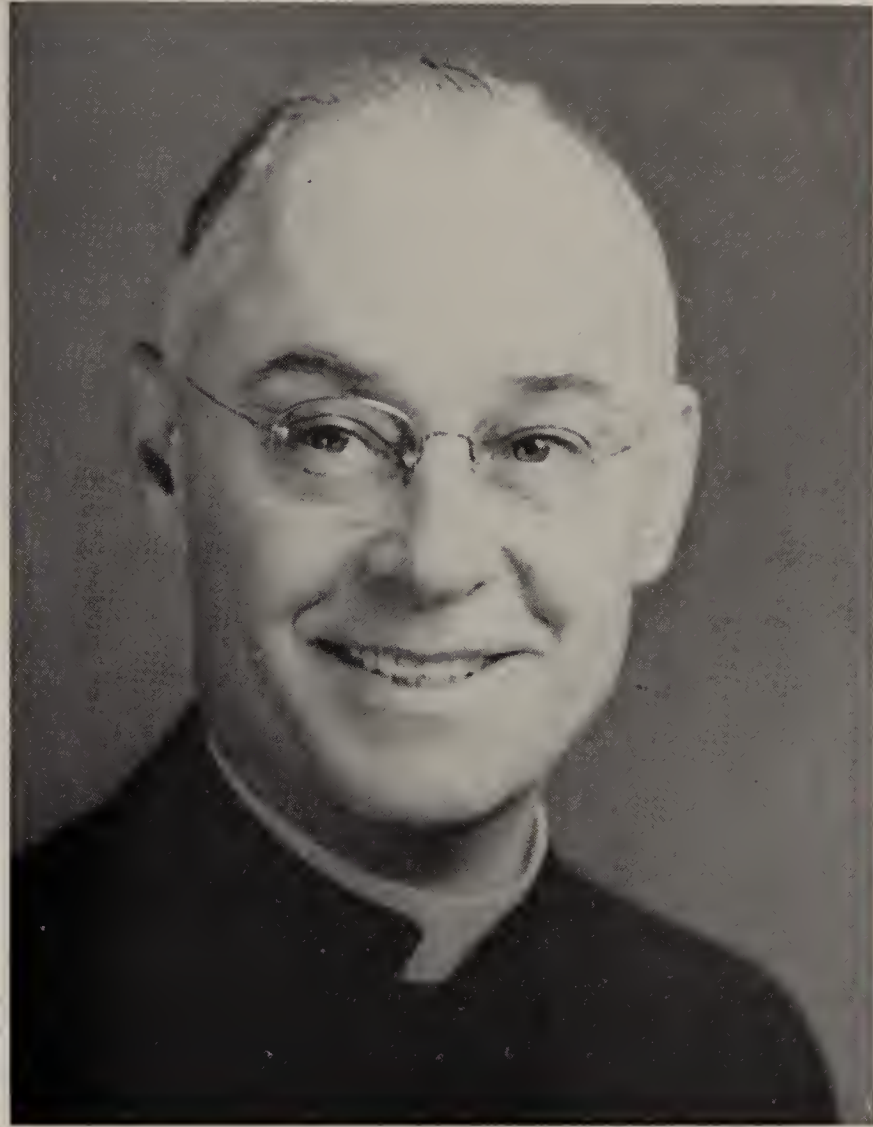

The Rev. Alfred J. Zanolar, M.A.

Appointed to the office of president of Saint Joseph's at the beginning of the present scholastic year, Father Zanolar has already done much to raise Saint Joseph's to even greater degrees of excellence than it has enjoyed in the past.

Vice President

The Rev. Rufus H. Esser, M.A.

Father Rufus Esser, vice president and chairman of the Department of Languages and Humanities, has been a member of the faculty since 1925. By his kindness and understanding he has endeared himself to the entire student body at Saint Joseph's.

Brothers

The lay brothers are the dynamo of campus industry. Their tasks are varied, but without them, the wheels of Collegeville progress would bog down.

Electrician, plumber, farmer, mechanic, librarian, barber, tailor; these are some of the many jobs filled by them.

Daily they perform their duties out of love of God.

Culinary Art

The college is indebted to the Sisters of the Precious Blood for their self-sacrificing work in the kitchen and laundry.

Students assist in kitchen and cafeteria.

A dietitian is in charge of the preparation of the Collegeville meals.

The Pumas in the pigskin phase of sports finished their 1948 season with three wins against five losses. Ball State, Indiana State and St. Norbert's College fell before the Collegeville aggregation, while Eastern Illinois, Louisville, Valparaiso, Loras and St. Ambrose registered victories.

In the Midlands Conference the Pumas tied with St. Norbert's for third place, with one win out of three conference games.

The season began with a night game at Eastern Illinois. St. Joe recovered an Eastern Illinois fumble early in the first quarter, opened a ground attack, and

Indiana State Upset

Scharfmen Gunning for Second Victory at Louisville Saturday

BY BOB BRAITHWAITE

St. Joseph's Pumas and the Cardinals of Louisville each other next Saturday night at Louisville renewal of a gridiron feud that began in 1917. That victory gave the Cardinals an edge which the Pumas of last fall's tussle nearly upset the Cardinals with a stunning Homecoming blot on Louisville's record. The Pumas served as the receiving end of the Cardinals' attack in the opening quarter.

Quarterback Tom Quinn scored the first tally of the game. The try for the extra point failed. The Panthers retaliated with a touchdown in the second frame, and put the game into a deadlock. Late in the third quarter an Eastern Illinois rally added 13 more points to the score. The last quarter went scoreless, and the Pumas finished on the short end of a 19-6 score.

In their first home game of the season the Pumas met Ball State of Muncie, and upset the Cardinals to the tune of 33-0. St. Joe's fullback, John Frawley, crashed the line for the initial score early in the first quarter. In the second frame a quick ground attack brought the ball to the two-yard line, and again Frawley drove across for the tally.

The second period began with a 67-yard run by Cliff Beaver from the Puma five. Two ground plays netted 14 yards, and then Tom Quinn's pass to Roy Stone brought another goal. Still in the third quarter another ground attack set Frawley up for the fourth touchdown, and Quinn's kick put St. Joe 27 points ahead. In the last minutes of the third stanza Cliff Beaver crashed through center for the final score.

The Pumas met a tough, speedy Louisville team on October 2, and lost to the Cardinals, 20-0. The southern aggregation began to roll as soon as it got the ball, with an 84-yard drive that ended in the first score of the game. In the second quarter a Puma fumble set the stage for another Cardinal counter. The kick was good, and the halftime score was 13-0. A 57-yard sideline run for a touchdown and a good P.A.T. gave the Cardinals seven more points in the fourth quarter, and the game ended with the Pumas on the short end of a 20-0 tally.

The game with Valparaiso U. on the Crusaders home field went deep into the third quarter, with Valpo leading 20-0, before a fumble on their 18-yard line paved the way for John Frawley's touchdown. The extra point kick was good. Early in the fourth period a 62-yard run by Wally Moore and a kick by Frawley brought the score to 20-14. St. Joe's rally moved the ball to the two-yard line, but time ran out before the score was made, and Valpo won, 20-14.

St. Joe travelled to Dubuque on October 17 to battle with the Loras College Duhawks, and dropped the game 40-13 for the fourth loss of the season. Loras held the Pumas scoreless for three quarters, while they racked up 33 points for themselves. A last-stanza rally by the Collegeville eleven netted 13 points, but the Duhawk lead was too great to overcome. Another Loras TD in the last few minutes of play ended the game, 40-13.

Dad's Day at Collegeville was highlighted by the game between the Pumas and a strong St. Ambrose team, with the Bees coming out on top of an 18-7 score. The visitors scored early in the first quarter on a Puma fumble, and again on a long aerial drive. St. Joe's only tally came in the last canto on a 28-yard pass to Wally Moore. Another Bee score late in the quarter ended the game.

Homecoming festivities saw a 7-0 upset over the Indiana State Sycamores in a tight, hard-fought game on the local grid-iron. The only tally of the game was made by Wally Moore on a 21-yard run to pay dirt. John Frawley kicked for the extra point. The Sycamores staged a last-quarter rally, but the Puma defense held, and the final score showed the second St. Joe win of the season, 7-0.

The pigskin campaign ended for the Cardinal and Purple on November 14 with a 13-7 victory over St. Norbert. The Green Knights made their only score early in the second quarter on a driving pass offense after a scoreless first period. Culminating a 44-yard march in the third stanza, John Frawley made the first Puma tally and conversion. Another drive for 27 yards in the last quarter again set Frawley up for the last score of the season. Final score: St. Joe 13, St. Norbert 7.

Hardwood Highlights

When Coach Art Cosgrove first trotted his 1948-'49 basketball edition onto the fieldhouse boards last November 30, the general outlook on the campus was one of enthusiastic optimism. The early part of the season seemed to bear out the fond hopes of Puma followers. A kind schedule-maker had blessed them with six of their first seven games at home, an advantage which was speedily turned into a record of six wins and only one loss, that one being played on Illinois Wesleyan's floor. Loras fell to the scrappy Pumas by 10 points in the most spirited exhibition of the year before a jammed fieldhouse of home fans. Huntington, Canterbury, Chicago Teachers, Wabash and St. Benedict's also were humbled at Collegetown.

However, the tide turned when St. Ambrose's Bees invaded the Puma lair for a supposedly routine game and turned it into a stunning three-point defeat which snapped the Cardinal and Purple 11-game home streak and gave the Pumas their first shove on the way down. From this point on the Cosgrove-men seemed to sag, losing heart-breaking one-pointers at Valparaiso and St. Norbert in succession. Six more defeats followed, interrupted only by a second victory over Huntington. DePaul, nationally-ranked, and Indiana State highlighted the parade with especially lopsided scores, the Demons racking up an 82-46 lacing.

Basketeers

Fieldhouse Fracas

Losing to St. Ambrose and Loras on a trip to Iowa, the Pumas found their fair hopes for a winning season gone aglimmering. St. Norbert hung their sixth straight loss on the Collegeville five, but Anderson, playing with a disabled Johnny Wilson, was beaten, 81-61. Whereupon the Pumas again lost to Indiana State, but wound up the year by edging Valparaiso at home.

The final ledger read: nine victories and 13 defeats, nine of them on the road.

Papa Halas' Cubs

Following a custom of five years standing, the Chicago Bears professional football squad trained at Saint Joseph's from August 4 to September 4, using the local gridiron to work out pre-season kinks in preparation for their grueling National League schedule.

Included in his repertoire of formidable gridders, owner-coach George Halas brought with him such talented performers as Johnny Lujack, Sid Luckman, Bobby Layne, George McAfee, "Bulldog" Turner and George Conners. Quartered in Seifert Hall, the "king-sized" Bears made themselves at home on the Collegeville campus, eating in the college cafeteria and flocking into Science Hall classrooms for daily sessions devoted to the study of football strategy.

On August 15 the Bears displayed one of the greatest exhibitions of pro-football tactics ever seen by many people in the surrounding area. In an intra-squad game Coach Halas split his aggregation into two teams, the Orange and the Blue, and provided spectators with a taste of professional football at its best. Proceeds of the game were turned over to the college-community stadium fund.

Faced with a schedule of 14 diamond battles, the 1948 edition of Saint Joseph's baseball crew looked to the approaching season with moderate optimism. Braced with adequate reserve strength in every position, Coach Dick Scharf's Pumas were out to better the 1947 season's record of seven wins and three losses.

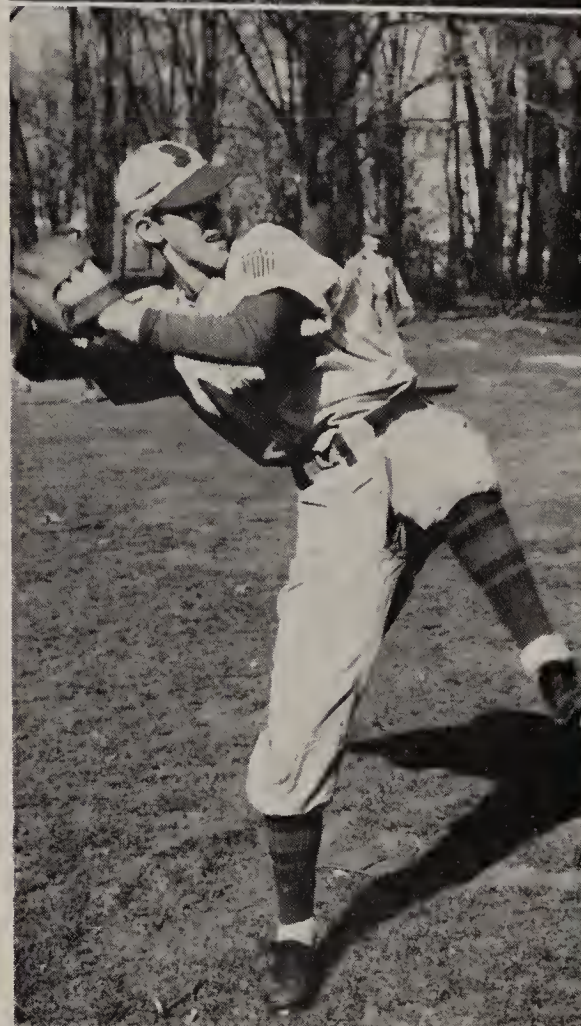

Hard luck stepped into the horsehide picture, however, and handed the Pumas more than their share of heart-breaking one-run defeats. At the season's end they looked back on a record of three wins and 11 losses, six of the latter being of the one-run variety.

Double Play

Viewing the 1949 season, Coach Scharf is relying on nine returning veterans: Clarence Kuhn, Cy Bohney, Angel Barrientos, Bud Greif, Keller Riede, Don Tesmond, Jerry Leahy, Jim Dolan and Tom Quinn. Both Bohney and Kuhn hit over the .300 mark during the 1948 campaign.

Intramurals

One of the most important phases of extra-curricular activity on the campus of St. Joseph College is participation in the Intramural sports program. Organized for the express purpose of encouraging mental alertness and the building of strong, healthy bodies, the Intramural agenda is dedicated to the fostering of good sportsmanship and wholesome recreation.

Practically every student in the Puma school participates in some channel of Intramural activity. The program is broad, embracing almost every field of athletic competition, and is so organized as to offer an appealing slate of activities.

In touch football play, which included 10 teams, the Ramrods of Drexel Hall captured the league title, defeating the Hoods of West Seifert. The Hoods bounced back, however, to avenge the loss by winning the Inter-hall crown in a crushing 25-0 victory over Noll Hall in the finale.

KEGLERS

L. to R.: Hamilton, Keating, Boylan.

Competition

The arrival of basketball season witnessed a flurry of competition as 19 squads organized into two leagues and launched a determined campaign for the Hoop crown. The Campus Trotters emerged victorious in B play while Paddy's Pigs copped top honors in A league competition. In the play-off, Paddy's Pigs defeated the Trotters 49-31 for the Intramural title and representation in the Extramural tournament.

Meanwhile, St. Joe keglers were spilling the maples on the alleys of nearby Rensselaer and Remington. The Skeegers, Peons, Madcaps and Shysters found competition strong as the Frawley Fireballs rolled up a comparatively strong lead.

With the advent of spring came active participation in softball, volleyball and table tennis. An intense feeling of "esprit de corps" was evident and the Intramural spotlight focused upon the finish of another successful season.

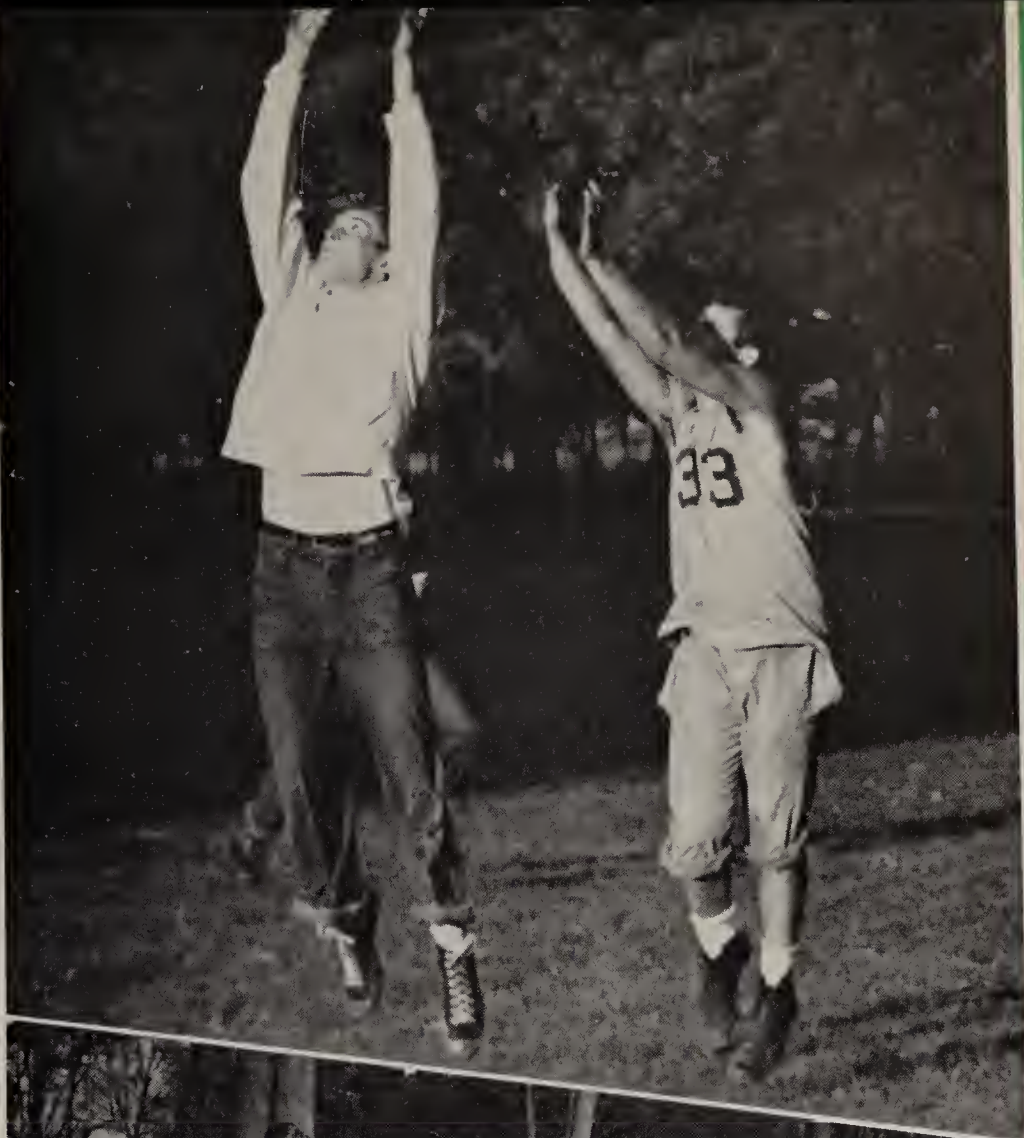

Sportsmanship

Climaxing another year of Intramural activity, St. Joseph's played host to mural championship teams from Loras, St. Ambrose and St. Norbert in the second annual Midlands Extramural tournament. Athletes from St. Ambrose prepared to defend their 1948 title. The event included play-offs in basketball, volleyball, bowling and table tennis.

Health

Activities

Frosh Frolics

With a brotherly spirit the sophomores put the freshmen through one of the most important and intensive training periods of their careers.

Each member of the second year class seemed to hold himself personally responsible for the proper tutoring of the youngsters. This they accomplished well with the aid of physical persuasions at times.

Also during the first few weeks of the school year, the new students, with posters, loudspeaker, brass band, and drum majorettes, held a vigorous campaign for class officers. St. Joe had never seen anything like it.

Candid Shots

Thirteen Sisters and two lay teachers added a page to Saint Joseph's history last summer when they enrolled here for the summer session. Never before had women attended courses at Collegeville.

A record was made on the campus last fall when 22,617 bushels of corn were harvested from 227 acres, for an average of 81 bushels per acre. A portion of this corn went into the raising of 475 turkeys for the college cafeteria.

Homecoming — 1948

Though Homecoming eve was dampened by Dame Nature, the victory bonfire was coaxed along until it blazed forth a promise of an enjoyable day ahead.

In the afternoon the Pumas stormed out onto a chilly gridiron to meet a highly touted Indiana State. Before the last gun cracked the Cardinal and Purple had the win by a 7-0 score.

With excitement still running high the doors to the west end of the field-house were opened to welcome the victory dancers. As favors Varsity Vic statuettes were given to the Pumas' dates.

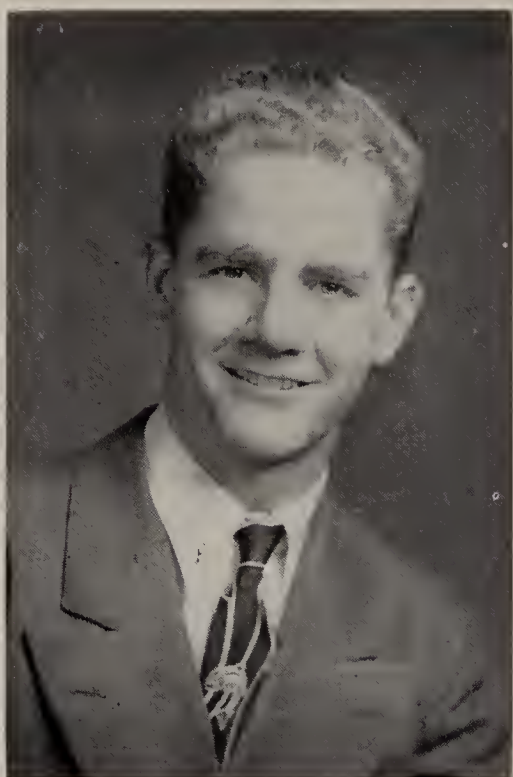

This statuette is the model of the little man running through the pages of our yearbook.

Raleigh Hall

Raleigh Hall has become the club room of the campus in a big way this past year. Rec Hall, as it is affectionately known to campus men, with ping pong, pool and card tables, easy chairs, piano, fireplace and soda fountain, is an inviting and cheery hangout for the students' off-duty hours. There are few who do not drop over to the Rec Hall several times a day for a short coke with a shot of cherry, a cup of Java, or a round of bridge.

The courtesy of the college fieldhouse was extended to the Hon. Charles Halleck, Indiana congressman, on October 16, for the only Indiana address of presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey. Mr. Dewey's appearance here was a red-letter day in the history of the Republican party of Jasper county.

JAMES H. STANG
Editor

It is safe now to open the door to the editorial sanctum. The sixth issue of Phase is in your hands. All there is to do now is clean up the debris, roll down our shirt sleeves, gather up what is left of the editors' wits, and then quit letting our education interfere with our studies.

Yes, according to an old classic formula, Phase is a compound of printer's ink and sweat in equal parts—ninety percent sweat. Was it worth it? If in the future, to which this issue is dedicated, Phase calls to mind the days, the deeds, the joys, the friends that once were yours and ours, who will begrudge the moil and toil? If in the present, amid the hurly burly, Phase provides an oasis wherein we can see ourselves, our College, our life, who dare say, "Never again?"

Student Council

The Student Council is one of the most important student organizations on the campus. Its purpose is to offer student suggestions to the administration. Petitions originating with the students are discussed and acted upon by the council, and upon its approval are presented to the Administrative Board for final action. It is through this close harmony that many student ideas materialize into reality.

However, this group does not restrict its functions to merely acting as representatives of the student body; it also sponsors many social functions, and promotes extra-curricular activities on the campus.

The council is composed of the presidents of the various campus organizations. The president of the group is selected by vote of the members.

Monogram Club

Teamwork on the field of play implies that there exists among participants a certain closeness; call it independence, a community of interests, or what you will.

Naturally, this "stick-togetherness" is going to manifest itself among these participants in realms other than sports. Athletes, too, are social animals.

To find a less strenuous outlet for this expression of unity, St. Joe "J" men are organized as the Monogram Club which, except for a few war years, has been active since 1933.

As a unified body, Puma lettermen have shown by past experience that they can be depended upon to the hilt to uphold the best traditions and standards of their organization and their school in both the game and in non-athletic school activities.

Albertus Magnus Society

Founded eleven years ago, the Albertus Magnus Society is an honor society for students majoring or minoring in the physical sciences. It has as its purpose the stimulation of a greater interest in the sciences. To this end movies of scientific interest and papers written by members are presented at meetings held on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month. Lectures and demonstrations by faculty members of the Science Division are given from time to time. Among the papers prepared and delivered by students during the past year were those dealing with the Tesla Coil, Cyclooctatetraene, the Turbo Jet, Synthetic Rubber and Man-made Eclipses.

Each spring the Society sponsors a Science Day—a day on which the laboratories are thrown open to the public, and the lectures and demonstrations are conducted by the students.

Officers for the current year are: John A. Weis, president; Edward E. Taphorn, vice president; Victor F. Toeppe, secretary, and James L. Causland, treasurer.

For ten years the Commerce Club has met each month for the purpose of promoting interest in the functions of commerce and industry. Formerly divided into Economics and Accounting divisions, the two sections were merged last fall, since their aims were mutual.

At the first meeting of the 1948-'49 school year Frederick Sieben was chosen president; Robert Ryan, vice president; Emil Michon, secretary, and Joseph Sloyan, treasurer, with the Rev. Cletus Dirksen as moderator.

Mr. Kenneth Marin addressed the club at its October meeting on the interesting topic, "Family Allowances."

On December 8 members of the club visited the Chicago Board of Trade, the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company, and the Merrill, Lynch, Fennor, Pierce, and Beane Brokerage Firm.

Following the April meeting several movies were shown, including the English film, "Family Life."

The year's activities of the club were brought to a close with the annual dinner in late April, at which keys were awarded juniors and seniors who had been members of the club for four or more semesters.

Commerce Club

Choir

The choir, composed of seminarians in the Society of the Precious Blood, brings added dignity and solemnity to the liturgy in the College Chapel. At High Mass on Sundays and Feast-days it maintains a high standard in the interpretations of Gregorian Chant and the a cappella compositions of the old masters and the foremost present-day composers of Church Music. The liturgy of Christmas and Holy Week, enhanced by their singing, is an especially rewarding and inspiring experience.

Glee Club

Membership in the College Glee Club, directed by Mr. Daniel Connor, is coveted by every student yearning to participate in group singing. The Club presents concerts featuring solos, quartettes and choral singing in both the serious and light veins, as well as operettas and musicales. Its Christmas Cantata, produced jointly with the College of St. Francis Glee Club, has been highly popular down the years.

Radio Acceptance Poll

For the second successive year the Radio Acceptance Poll, under the auspices of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, was conducted on Saint Joseph's campus from the office of the National Press Commission under the chairmanship of John W. Lynch, Jr.

Thousands of college and university students throughout the nation participated in the RAP program to determine the acceptability of radio comedy programs and personalities on those programs. Acceptability was based on the premise: "Would a stranger be welcome in your home by all members of your family, if he or she said the same things as the radio performer is saying?"

N.F.C.C.S.

Saint Joseph's College is one of the two hundred and nine American Catholic Colleges affiliated with the National Federation of Catholic College Students comprising over 500,000 students. The purpose of the organization is to promote Catholic action among the students through action, study, and prayer, and to foster lay leadership.

The highlight of the year for the local unit of the N. F. C. C. S. was the car raffle which netted $2500. This will be used toward relief for European students.

Early in the fall delegates from Catholic colleges over the country assembled here for the National Press Commission Workshop weekend conference.

Sanguinist Club

The Sanguinist Club—one of the most active groups on the campus—meets every two weeks to discuss religious topics and to plan club activities. Under the guidance of Father Alvin Druhman as moderator the Sanguinist Club endeavors to keep before the mind of the student his real goal in life—eternity.

During the past year the Sanguinists sponsored a Novena and several Triduums, and arranged for the Byzantine Rite Mass celebrated in the College Chapel on Septuagesima Sunday.

Farley Stamp Club

The Farley Stamp Club was organized in 1937, while genial Jim Farley was Postmaster General. Its most active years were those preceding the war. Meetings were well attended, albums built up, stamp studies quite advanced. Delegates went to stamp exhibits and regional conventions of national organizations, returning to Saint Joseph's with trophies of merit. Interest waned during the war times, but has been revived since. One of the aims of the F. S. C. is to give a campus exhibit each year or two. The Rev. Gilbert Esser has directed the club from the beginning except for his Army years. His own collection of stamps and coins is a varied one.

Father Falter Post

Shortly after the end of World War II, Saint Joseph's war veterans organized the Father Falter Post, named for the Rev. Clement M. Falter, C.P.P.S., former professor, who met death during the North African landing on November 8, 1942.

Chief accomplishment of the Post during the past year was the presentation of an American flag to the college in memory of Father Falter's service to the college and his country. The flag was presented, blessed and hoisted on the sixth anniversary of Father Falter's death. Annual ceremonies are planned by the Post for this anniversary in years to come.

Veterans Club

Father Falter Post is already experiencing the inevitable diminishing of membership following the gradual decline in the number of war veterans attending Saint Joseph's. Though largely social, the club nevertheless fosters regular attendance at daily Mass and loyalty on the part of students to Saint Joseph's.

Stuff

STUFF, the campus newspaper, gives to students of journalism a chance to work with the fundamentals of news. Narrating the 58th year of St. Joe, STUFF offers to many the opportunity of actual newspaper work—news writing, editing, proofreading, headline writing, makeup, and the evaluation of news.

Besides preserving the history of Saint Joseph's it is STUFF'S job to inform, entertain, and exhort its readers to high Catholic standards through its articles and editorials. The newspaper also proves helpful in backing campus activities, campaigns, and projects.

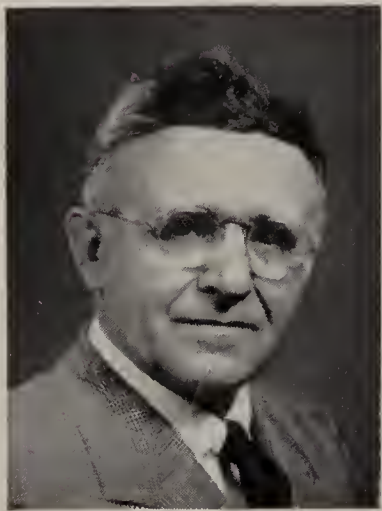

Measure

Measure, the literary voice of Saint Joseph's, first made itself clearly heard in the autumn of 1937. Until then it had been mingled with journalism in the monthly magazine, The Collegian.

To its readers, here and at other colleges, it seeks to bring the best writing of the students of Saint Joseph's. Throughout its life Measure has held fast to its original goal: the publication of good creative writing, stories, poetry, drama and informative essays in various fields of learning. It has, furthermore, striven to promote interest in current Catholic writing through informative and critical book reviews.

Concert Band

For thirty-one years Professor Paul Tonner has been the master of music at Saint Joseph's. Many an inexperienced group of hornblowers, and, doubtless, some who had never blown a horn at all, have been trained to high degrees of proficiency and have been molded into expert campus concert bands. It can truly be said that Collegeville's thirsts for music have been ably satisfied.

Saint Joseph's and the surrounding area look forward each year to the band's Christmas Concert and the Spring Musicales. Playgoers, too, are serenaded by the band between acts of the dramatic society productions.

Marching Band

The Marching Band, under Mr. Daniel Connor's direction, filled in the halftime gaps at all of last fall's Puma home football games. And, from their seats in the stands, the bandsmen proved able substitutes for football during timeouts also. Block-letter formations had to be restricted to abbreviations, however, owing to the abbreviated size of the band. Though numbers were lacking, music was not.

Last winter's basketball games also found the band much in evidence. The contest didn't get under way until Professor Tonner had conducted his men through the National Anthem while the spotlighted Old Glory was being raised to the fieldhouse ceiling.

This Collegeville dramatic group, now under the direction of Mr. Ralph Cappucilli, entered upon an agreement last fall with the Literary Guild of St. Xavier College of Chicago to exchange male and female characters for roles in their respective plays.

Through this agreement two highly successful three-act comedies, The Late Christopher Bean, and the Broadway hit, I Remember Mamma, were produced. Both were enthusiastically received by each school.

Last spring the Columbian Players staged the three-act comedy, A Pair of Sixes.

Americans being a peculiarly gregarious variety of that social animal, man, it is inevitable that large groups of students from the same area form social organizations of their own. Last year the largest group on the campus formed the Chicago Club. Their example was followed, this year, by the students from Lake County and Fort Wayne. All three clubs aim to foster social events for their members and to promote interest in Saint Joseph's in their home territory.

Foreign Language Club

Any student who has completed a semester of college French or its equivalent is eligible for membership in Le Cercle Francais, begun in the fall of 1947 by a group of enthusiastic students interested in French. The club aims to assist its members in perfecting their knowledge of French through discussion and reports carried on in the language. Movies in French or recordings of French opera occasionally form part of the monthly meetings.

The Club Interamericano, open to students interested in the study of the Spanish language and culture, was inaugurated on the campus last fall.

At regular monthly meetings its members study Hispanic customs and culture, become acquainted with Spanish music and folklore, and aim to acquire some degree of fluency in speaking Spanish.

Last fall an Art Club, the first in St. Joe history, was formed. It is an independent student activity, and endeavors through posters and advertisements to promote programs sponsored by other campus clubs.

The student body of Saint Joseph's includes a group of young men preparing for the priesthood in the Society of the Precious Blood. After completing two years of pre-philosophical studies at Collegeville, they transfer to Saint Charles Seminary, Carthagen, Ohio. Although Xavier Hall provides private recreational and classroom facilities and living quarters, the seminarians take part in those campus organizations and activities in harmony with the aims and purposes of their state of life.

Senior Class

As their ancestors a century ago, the forty-niners donning caps and gowns this June have struck it rich. Four years of digging through books and weighing of precious gleanings have brought their just reward—a degree.

For many of the veterans, who started their long trek early in the forties, this long-delayed triumph means the golden realization of their dreams.

Forty-eight members comprise this class, the majority of whom will graduate in June, thus making the largest graduating class in St. Joe history.

With pride the staff of Phase joins the students in wishing success to the new alumni.

Junior Class

Having reached the upper level of college life, the Juniors have proved that they have used their time wisely over the past three years.

The classroom, the field of sports, and the social scene are success settings of their campus pageant. The Homecoming dance and the Prom were well planned by them, and richly rewarded their endeavors.

These men, ninety in number, are capable of filling the well-worn shoes of the Seniors.

Sophomore Class

One hundred and thirty-two strong, the sophomore class was formed, early in the fall, from former yearlings anxious to flex their nimble muscles.

In traditional sophomore manner they tested their strength by properly indoctrinating the freshies. A year's time had not dimmed the remembrance of their own orientation under the tutelage of their older brothers.

The past two years have knit the sophs into a firm group bound for success.

Freshman Class

In September the first class bell of the 1948-'49 school year introduced one hundred and seventy-five new men to the campus. As the largest organization at Collegeville they sparked the year with high spirit and hard work.

Their well-fought election for class officers gave a unique twist to Puma campaigning. Initiation was rough but the frosh were tough. The dance, "Serenade in Blue," was a credit to their planning.
